

Mercer County Education Association presents:

Student Social Justice Expressions Contest

Deadline for entry is February 25, 2021

MCEA is running this contest among Mercer County students in grades K-12 to find out what social justice means to them while in the process, helping to bring awareness about the importance of social justice, to improve fairness in society, to educate students and their families and most importantly, to have some FUN!

Students - create an original piece of work that reflects/shows your thoughts or feelings on what social justice means to you. Winning submissions will be included in a coloring/activity book created by MCEA for students in grades K-5. You may choose to submit:

- A drawing that can be colored in by students receiving the book
- A cartoon that represents one aspect of social justice
- A design or art piece
- A Poem
- A Word Puzzle/Word Search
- A Tweet/Hashtag
- Or, another format of expression of your choice.

All submissions are to be submitted in black and white on one 8 ½ x 11 inch white paper or as a pdf attachment of the same size.

- ❖ The top winners selected will have their artwork printed on a t-shirt, have their submission included in a student activity book, a copy of the book, and a t-shirt!
- ❖ All other winners selected will have their submissions included in an activity book and receive a copy of the book and a t-shirt!
- ❖ All participants will receive a Certificate of Participation.

Only one entry per student will be accepted.
