

Mercer County Education Association Presents
The Third Annual
Student Social Justice Expressions Contest
Deadline for entry is March 31, 2023

MCEA is running its third annual social justice contest among Mercer County students in grades K-12. Students should express what social justice means to them.

Students - Create an original piece of work that reflects/shows your thoughts or feelings on what social justice means to you. Winning submissions will be included in a coloring/activity book created by MCEA for students in grades K-5. You may choose to submit:

- A drawing that can be colored in by students receiving the book (must be done in black marker or very dark pencil and not colored in)
- A Poem
- A Word Puzzle/Word Search
- A Hidden/Secret Message Puzzle
- Comic Strip - must be done in black and white

All submissions are to be submitted in black and white on one 8 ½ x 11 inch white paper or as a pdf attachment of the same size. Be sure to leave a 1 inch border on the edges to account for book binding. Please include the student's first name only in the bottom right corner of their submission, printed neatly.

- ❖ The top two winners selected will have their artwork printed on a t-shirt, have their submission included in a student activity book, and will receive a copy of the activity book, and a t-shirt!
- ❖ All other winners selected will have their submissions included in the activity book and receive a copy of the activity book and a t-shirt!

Only one entry per student will be accepted.
